

A high-angle, wide shot of a rugged mountain valley. In the foreground, a winding asphalt road follows the curve of a river. The river is a milky, light blue color, typical of glacial meltwater. The surrounding mountains are steep and rocky, with patches of brown and tan soil. In the background, a range of jagged, snow-capped peaks rises against a sky filled with heavy, grey clouds. The overall scene conveys a sense of adventure and natural beauty.

ADVENTURUSH

ADVISORY

- Pre-Dive Preparations: Avoid heavy meals and alcohol before dive. If you are running a cold or fever, diving is not recommended.
- Duration: Dive sessions last 30-45 minutes, based on experience and depth.
- Health Factors: Individuals who have undergone surgery in the last 12 months, with asthma or severe respiratory/heart conditions, ear problems, stomach or intestine problems including recent diarrhoea should avoid diving. Pregnant women are also advised against participating. Kindly consult your doctor if you have any pre-existing medical condition. Also please note that keeping your safety first, the dive instructor may not allow you to participate if you are found unfit.
- Age Limits: Ages 14-45. For 45 years+ age groups, a medical fitness certificate from a medical practitioner permitting individuals to dive, would be required.
- Comprehensive Briefing: Mandatory dive briefing covers safety, signals, site info, and emergencies.
- Equipment Provided: Mask, snorkel, fins, regulator, BCD, wetsuit (if needed); proper use will be explained.
- Weather Dependence: Dives may be cancelled or rescheduled due to adverse weather. Dive Cancellations due to weather conditions are refundable.
- Responsible travel: Kindly adhere to responsible underwater practices, such as not touching or damaging coral reefs, and minimizing your impact on the underwater ecosystem.
- Swimming Skills: No swimming skills required, however having swimming skills can aid in better air pressure control and effortless gliding underwater. Enjoy a fantastic and secure scuba diving experience by following these guidelines.
